

NO PAPER ON WEDNESDAY.—The printing fraternity there is no chance of getting in the world more scrupulously observed than this blessed day a time for utter freedom from work. Honoring an immortal sage, the attaches of the Journal will devote the day to the jollities and festivities by which it is ushered in and out. Therefore, the Journal will not show its face to-morrow.

Mr. Wm. C. Green can learn something to his advantage by calling at our counting-room and paying for this notice.

CHRISTMAS.

Ring out the old year,
Bring in the new,
With merry songs,
And with a new year's cheer.

The establishment of the anniversary of the birth of our Savior, as a church festival, originated with the Catholic Church, but, as years added additional leaves to the volume of time, people who had no connection with any church, joined in its observance, until the celebration of Christmas became universal among all civilized nations.

In the churches the anniversary is observed with appropriate religious ceremonies, but it is out in the world among non-professors of the faith of Christ, that it assumes the boisterous hilarity with which we are most familiar. The eve before the great day that at once gave the world a Savior and the church a head is usually ushered in by the firing of guns, explosions of pyrotechnics, and, too frequently, drunken debauches. Balls and parties are given, and an important element in the celebration, while the inhabitants of that mimic world, the stage, always move heaven and earth to procure and present something appropriate to the joyous occasion.

In accordance with this universal custom, our city on yesterday, in many portions, was a very holiday appearance. Christmas trees adorned the sidewalks before many popular confectioneries, grocers, etc., their radiant lights emanated and adorned with oranges, game, and a little of all the shops have to sell.

About the finest display we noticed was at the game depot of John S. Monach, on Third street, between Market and Jefferson. The upper story was festooned with alternate patches of evergreen, grouse, partridges, hares, &c., while down the center, stretched at full length, hung a fat, plump, magnificent fawn. The fawn, which was the center of attraction, was surrounded by a number of children, who were looking at it with great interest. The fawn was a very fine specimen of the kind, and was worth a good deal of money. The children were very much interested in it, and were looking at it with great interest.

The boys, too, were out having their fun. Squibs were squibbing and crackers were cracking all around us. Miniature guns and pistols, charged with the favorite weapon of the Chinese, exploded with a noise almost as loud as cannon. And their joyous laughter and beaming faces bespoke a happiness that cannot be child only once a year.

In the saloons and the hotel-bars the blithely disposed were indulging in marvelous potations of the favorite Christmas beverage, eggnogg. Many a ruly was worn upon the nose, and many a leg became demoralized. Happily, no disturbances of any kind have occurred up to the moment of writing.

One noticeable thing about our Christmas in the city is the incoming and outgoing tide of humanity. Hundreds of our citizens are seeking the rural districts, to partake of generous slices of the fatted Christmas turkey, and spend happy hours in happy company "in the light of the yule-log fire." On the other hand, hundreds of our country friends seek the city, and in this morning's train have arrived with a bag and a hand at the metropolitan style of passing the holiday.

Well, we wish one and all of our readers a merry Christmas, happy New Year, and many returns of the season. The cool, bracing, pleasant weather we are now enjoying comes to us most apropos. No snow, no wind, no rain, no fog, no ice—just what we need to cheer us for the occasion, as if her great heart, accorded in the bosom of the earth, beat in prison with that palpitate in the breasts of men. There is no natural reason why we should enjoy ourselves to-day—only let us do so in moderation, and with the pious ardor becoming the solemn occasion.

GRAND AFFAIR OF THE MANDARINS.—We understand that our German friends in contemplation a grand carnival a La Venice, on the 11th day of next February. Judging from the usual energy and inventive genius of that Society, and from what we have been enabled to gather from the several committees, the proposed masquerade will, we have no doubt, surpass anything of the kind ever seen in the West. Being always in the foremost ranks of any movement in the promotion of music and the introduction of new and progressive ideas, and as the late Saturday evening party, and the operation of all lovers of music and fun, they are determined to spare no expense in order to satisfy the most sanguine expectations of their friends.

The work of getting up the decorations is already in the hands of competent artists; the programme for the various amusing scenes, characters, burlesque representations, etc., is fixed, and everything is in the best of ways. As this masquerade will involve an outlay of several thousand dollars, it is intended, we hear, to fix the price of tickets for one gentleman and lady at ten dollars, including subscription for supper. Lists for subscription are open at A. B. Miller's, on Third street, near Mr. Schmidt's drug store, corner of Market and Fifth streets, and Mr. Bohner's, at the Louisville Hotel. This affair promises to be of great magnitude, and we shall keep a lookout for further developments.

PLEASANT FAMILY ERROR.—Last Sunday afternoon our esteemed fellow-citizen, Nathan Beninger, Esq., banker, was presented with a beautiful gold-headed walking-cane, by his two sons, Moses and Eddie. The presentation took place at Mr. B's residence, No. 21 Walnut street, at 2 o'clock. It was a pleasing and felicitous affair all around. The cane, valued at thirty dollars, was elegantly chased and suitably inscribed. Mr. Beninger, in presenting the filial token, spoke very feelingly, and concluded by saying, "Take it, my son, and if necessary use it to defend yourself." In accepting the gift the fond father was too much overwhelmed with the kindness of his children to say more than to thank them in a few touching words, and assure them that he prized the memento more than any other he could tell, and that he would keep it as long as he lived, to remind him of the love and regard of the givers. This little event points a sentiment worthy of the highest laudation.

FIRE LAST NIGHT.—Last night about 9 o'clock an alarm was sounded from station box No. 41, corner of Main and Sixth, caused by the shed immediately in the rear of Engle's Brewery, on Market street, between Sixth and Seventh, being ignited by a rocket that fell upon it. A couple of steamers were quickly on the spot, and succeeded in suppressing the flames before any material damage was done. Two or three houses in the neighborhood were broken open by the crowd, under the supposition that they were the buildings on fire, but the police were promptly on hand to keep any of the goods from being handled or taken out.

FALSE PRETENSES.—A man named N. Sterne was arrested by Officers Hipwell and Sweeney yesterday evening on a charge of having obtained goods upon false pretenses. He was admitted to bail, and will be brought to trial on the 29th inst. The goods were valued at $500, and were obtained from the store of J. H. Koster, in the city.

ENDORS.—The Journal of yesterday contained several awkward typographical mistakes, which were the result of late and hasty proof-reading. We hope the unpleasant impression thus made upon the reader's eye, and ourselves may never recur.

WAR IN AFRICA.

Highly Colored Case of Scam.
Mag.—A Faithless Wife
her Husband Sent to the Work-house—An Elopement and its Consequences.

In the saintly and fastidious city of Potosi, Bolivia, a short while ago, there dwelt a loving couple of the Congressional hue, but the husband was more than the wife—he being as black as a stick of black cane in a coal cellar at midnight, while she is the color of molasses candy half pulled. These two doves of the Third Street, who were married and cooed as never married people did before, until a wicked hawk from Boast Butler's hawk-cote flew into this happy dove-cote, and catching the female dove in his talons flew away to Louisville with her.

This initiator of the sturdy scamps who played such scurvy tricks with the Sabine women, is a saddle-colored gentleman of the consoling persuasion on the steamer "United States." The mongrel husband is named George Ford, while the captured and erring dove has been passing under the name of Mollie Davis, in this city.

George having learned the whereabouts of his false lady, and desiring to recover at least a portion of the worldly gear of which she stripped him when she eloped, followed her to this city, and, after a good deal of searching and the same amount of trouble, discovered her at a house on Magazine street.

His anger vanished when he looked upon her face, and he used his utmost powers of persuasion to induce her to return to the home she had made desolate and the heart she had broken. Her optics were not keen enough to observe the subject in that illumination. George's heart became again as twice-tempered steel. He demanded what she had stolen from him. Again her villainous spouse for her own course, a policeman "canned" her like a work on the mill, and moved him off to jail. Yesterday morning, when he told his story in the City Court, and Mollie did not contradict it, the charge was changed from that of felony to assault and battery, for which he was fined. Not having the wherewithal to bind up the fractured peace and dignity of the city of Louisville, he was detained to serve in the geological corps, and in this morning's train he left for the division immediately commanded by General Kirkpatrick.

MORAL.—When a wife runs away from you, be careful how you manage to lay hands on the money she may have about her person.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES THIS DAY.—The Advent season, commemorative of the nativity of Christ, has been characterized by appropriate services in the Episcopal and Catholic churches of this city during the authorized period of four weeks preceding Christmas. These observances will be continued in the before-mentioned and some other of the Christian churches to-day.

METHODIST CHURCH MEETING.—Rev. J. H. Lyon, D. D., will preach this morning at 10 o'clock in the Methodist Church, on Shelby street, between Market and Jefferson. There will be preaching in no other Methodist Church in the city to-day, and the Christmas services of the Union, Mr. D. Deering, was directed by the preacher's meeting held yesterday to request the various congregations to unite in the services of to-day at Shelby street. Let all attend who can. The Market and Walnut-street churches pass within two and a half squares of the Church.

EPISCOPAL CHURCHES.—There will be services this morning at Calvary Church, when Rev. W. H. Platt will deliver a special discourse upon the Advent.

At Christ's Church, the usual Christmas day exercises will be conducted by Rev. James Crick, at the regular morning hour. We have had no notification of the fact, but presume meetings will be held St. Paul's, St. Andrew's, St. John's, and Grace Episcopal Churches.

CATHOLIC CHURCH.—The nativity will be celebrated imposingly at the Cathedral of the Assumption and other Catholic churches in the city. It is to be hoped that our church-going people will show proper respect to the sanctity of the day by crowding the various places of worship.

THE BATEMAN CONCERT TO-NIGHT.—Our people already know the unprecedented Christmas treat that is promised them in the grand Bateman concert at Masonic Temple this evening. Pity 'tis true, but Mr. Bateman's engagements are such that he can deliver us with but one concert. Yet this single hearing of the angelic Parepa and her attendant celebrities will be ever-memorable to those who go to the Temple to-night.

P. P. Paul's music store will be open for the sale of tickets until four o'clock, this afternoon, and those wanting secured seats should obtain them there, to avoid the crowd which will surround the doors at night.

DEFORABLE ACCIDENT.—Yesterday evening about four o'clock, Dr. L. E. Eddy, residing out on the River road, several miles from town, met with an accident. He was riding on his right arm, under the following circumstances: His horse, who is the owner of a circular saw mill, being in danger of getting injured by the saw, the Doctor, who was present, attempted to save him. Unfortunately, the saw struck him on the right arm, completely severing it, and throwing it some twenty feet from the saw. The Doctor is about thirty-five years of age, and will be well remembered as a former landlady of the Howard House in this city. His relatives reside at Eminence, Kentucky.

YESTERDAY EVENING.—We wrote an article yesterday evening on the subject of the pleasant weather that attended the advent of Christmas. Last night about dark the weather suddenly changed, and we had rain, hail, snow and high winds, by its aid.

FALSE PRETENSES.—A man named N. Sterne was arrested by Officers Hipwell and Sweeney yesterday evening on a charge of having obtained goods upon false pretenses. He was admitted to bail, and will be brought to trial on the 29th inst. The goods were valued at $500, and were obtained from the store of J. H. Koster, in the city.
